Founded in April 1993 by the College of Liberal Arts, National Sun Yat-sen University, Kaohsiung, Taiwan, the Sun Yat-sen Journal of Humanities (hereafter SYSJH) is now published twice a year, in January and July. The English-Chinese bilingual refereed journal solicits scholarly papers concerning various topics in the study of human sciences. Below are some guidelines for contributors:

1. SYSJH solicits scholarly papers on literature, history, philosophy, linguistics, art, musicology and other humanities subjects. We invite submission of appropriate manuscripts from researchers affiliated with academic institutions. Manuscripts submitted will be expected to contain original work and should not have been published elsewhere. Chapters from master's theses or doctoral dissertations will be deemed as "published."
2. Manuscripts of critical and research articles in English should not exceed 10,000 words; book reviews should not exceed 3,000 words.
3. Articles submitted for publication should conform to our house style. We basically adopt the documentation style recommended by SYSJH Style Guide.
4. Articles submitted will be sent to at least two consultant readers for blind review. Thus the contributor's name or any possible reference for identifying the author should not appear in the article sent.
5. Contributors will not be paid, but will receive two complimentary copies of the issue in which their articles appear.
6. Contributors are responsible for securing permission to reproduce illustrations and extracts used in SYSJH. Authors are also responsible for any reproduction costs or permission fees incurred.
7. Submissions for SYSJH should be sent, as attached file, to the following address: sysjoh@mail.nsysu.edu.tw
